

Educators and parents love Studenttreasures!

"Studenttreasures was an exciting project that students were extremely proud of. It was a lot of hard work and they got to have a physical object to show all their work. Parents were beyond thrilled- this is something they will keep forever. I also had a student tell me it was even better than a yearbook because they will be able to remember more about themselves and their classmates in years to come. I will absolutely be doing this every year with my students."

- Maureen S., Stamford, CT
Hart Magnet Elementary School

"Knowing their stories and drawings were going to be published gave the students a sense of purpose. The students were anxious to give the project their best effort. Extra attention to editing came easily. They were so proud of the books when the box arrived! Even students who are normally quiet were excited to get to read their stories to the entire class."

- Jennifer F., Des Moines, IA
Delaware Elementary School

"I was impressed by the quality of it. It's something that you know can sit on the shelf and can be pulled out and withstand years of fingers going through the pages."

- Tim C., Topeka, KS
Parent

"It was a great opportunity to have my students create a book that is published. They had a chance to see from beginning to end the full writing process of a book. I did appreciate how I was able to receive a lot help in answering my questions from the company. It made my first-time experience all the more sweeter and better."

- Ensley D., Tampa, FL
Shaw Elementary School

"Great writing activity and the kids LOVED it! They worked so hard and were very proud of their end result. I love that we have a product to save and cherish."

- Tricia T., Clinton, IA
Jefferson Elementary School

"A wonderful experience for children to put a book together. It gives them a nice memory and it provides community and appreciation for each person's part in the project. They are proud of the work they have done. It gives them appreciation and understanding of other authors' creations and the work they put into them."

- Melinda R., Winnemucca, NV
Winnemucca Grammar School

"I have been using Student Treasures for 4 years now and I love every experience. My students are so excited to create their own book to share with their families! I believe creating a book gives my students the opportunity to see themselves as writers and see how all the work we do all year helps them complete this project."

- Angela C., Mechanicsburg, PA
Sporting Hill Elementary School

"My class really enjoyed making our class book. They were so proud of their books when they came in and we had our 'Book Signing' party. They thought it was great to be published authors!"

- Erika P., Cushing, OK
Oak Grove Elementary School

"It sits on our coffee table. She's very proud every time we look at it together and it's fun. I actually think Emma has become more interested in writing and she talks about it more and she definitely already has a love of reading - I think this has definitely helped."

- Melissa B., Topeka, KS
Parent

"It was a fun project that made my students excited about writing. They loved seeing their stories published in a real book!"
